TONY SHELDON TRAVEL

We have continued to use Tony Sheldon Travel for a number of years in organizing small trips, flights and family holidays alike, and it is always a pleasure to experience the enthusiasm, knowledge and attention to detail offered by Mark, Isobel and Maria.

This year our main dealing with them was organising a fortnight in one of our favourite parts of the world, the Greek Islands. Mark knows that the Handcocks like to explore their destinations, that they're never to be found permanently horizontal whilst on holiday, and that they like to be sited away from tourist hotspots. This resulted in pointing us to the Greek Island Club and two stunning villas with views to die for at both ends of Kefalonia. He also arranged a car and a boat so that everything was in place on arrival.

It's good to know that as long as Tony Sheldon are around we will never be at the mercy of high street travel agents, that we'll never be told "computer says no" and we needn't get caught up in online booking confusion. The service is genuinely personal (I should know, they're now helping me arrange a surprise trip for wifey). It's an awful pun for a travel agent but they will go that extra mile.

We would happily recommend Sheldon to friends and family, and look forward to dealing with them in the future.
